If the enterprise carries on business as aforesaid, the profits of the enterprise may be taxed in the other State but only so much of them as is attributable to that permanent establishment.

(2) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (3) of this Article, where an enterprise of a Contracting State carries on business in the other Contracting State through a permanent establishment situated therein, there shall in each Contracting State be attributed to that permanent establishment the profits which it might be expected to make if it were a distinct and separate enterprise engaged in the same or similar activities under the same or similar conditions and dealing wholly independently with the enterprise of which it is a permanent establishment or with other enterprises which are controlled by the first-mentioned enterprise or have a controlling interest in it or are subject to the same common control.

(2) Where a Contracting State includes in the profits of an enterprise of that State, and taxes accordingly, profits on which an enterprises of the other Contracting State has been charged to tax in that other State and the profits so included are profits which would have accrued to that enterprise of the first-mentioned State if the conditions made between the two enterprises had been those which would have been made between independent enterprises, then that other State shall make an appropriate adjustment to the amount of the tax charged therein on those profits. (a) with reference to Articles 7 and 9, it is understood that nothing contained therein shall affect the application of any law of a Contracting State relating to the determination of the tax liability of a person, including the determination of such liability by the exercise of discretion or the making of an estimate by the competent authority of that State, it is not possible or practicable to ascertain the profits to be attributed to a permanent establishment, provided that that law shall be applied, so far as the information available to the competent authority permits, consistently with the principles of the said two Articles;

(b) with reference to paragraph (9) of Article 11, it is understood that the relevant institution, agency or instrumentality shall in the case of the United Kingdom be the Export Credits Guarantee Department and shall in the case of Malta be the Export Credit Guarantee Company Ltd;

(c) with reference to paragraph (6) of article 22, it is understood that at the request of one competent authority both Contracting States shall enter into discussions about extending the period referred to in paragraph (5) at any time so that, in the event of an agreement to extend that period being reached, there should be no discontinuity in the application of the Article;

(d) with reference to paragraph (2) of Article 23, the provisions of this Convention shall not apply:

(i) to persons who are entitled to a special tax benefit under the Malta International Business Activities Act 1988 except for those persons who opt under Section 41 of the said Act to be subject to the normal provisions of the Income Tax Act (Cap. 123); or

(ii) to persons who and to the extent to which under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1973 are not subject to tax on the profits derived from the operation of ships in international traffic; or

(iii) to persons entitled to any special tax benefit in respect of distributions by a trust subject to the provisions of the Offshore Trusts Act 1988 given that a trust as laid down in that Act is not vested with legal personality and therefore cannot benefit under the Convention in its own right;

(iv) to persons entitled to any special tax benefits under any substantially similar law subsequently enacted and which is agreed by the competent authorities of the Contracting States as included within the terms of paragraph (2) of Article 23 of this Convention.

If the foregoing proposals are acceptable to the Government of Malta, I have the honour to suggest that the present Note and Your Excellency's reply to that effect shall be regarded as constituting an agreement between the two Governments in this matter which shall enter into force at the same time as the entry into force of this Convention.
